Rockville, Maryland's Sport and Spine Rehab Recognized as America's Best Loved Medical Practice by DrScore.com

The D.C. Area Chiropractic Group recognized for their commitment to exceptional patient care by DrScore.com

Winston-Salem, NC (PRWEB) May 14, 2010 -- DrScore.com, the nation's leading scientifically validated online patient satisfaction company, today announced that Rockville, Maryland's Sport and Spine Rehab is America's Best Loved Medical Practice. Physicians in the chiropractic group, with seven locations throughout the D.C. Metro Area, consistently receive high overall ratings, with seven of the practice's doctors among the highest rated doctors in the country.

"We're pleased to recognize Rockville's Sport and Spine Rehab for the exceptional medical care they provide their patients," says Dr. Steven R. Feldman, founder and C.E.O. of DrScore. "Their commitment to using the continual feedback provided in monthly DrScore reports to drive the way they practice medicine has enabled them to provide the best possible care to their patients."

Sport and Spine Rehab started using DrScore's services to measure their patient satisfaction in 2008. The practice uses data from DrScore as a measure of their successes and failures with their patients. Each month, results are analyzed and discussed with staff members. Where there are areas of concern, strategies are developed and implemented immediately. This improvement process enables Sport and Spine Rehab to continuously provide the best possible experience for their patients. But equally important, says Dr. Chris Steacy, DS, CSCS, CKTP, and Sport and Spine Rehab's highest ranked doctor with more than 100 surveys completed, "positive comments are also shared with staff as acknowledgement of the excellent work they do with patients on a daily basis."

The seven doctors from Sport and Spine Rehab recognized as exceptional practitioners by DrScore include: Drs. Chris Steacy, Allen Huffman, Matthew Perry, Martin Donnelly, Robert Agosto, Zach Vahldick and Riccardo Tersigni.
